

Soprano Mary Johnston Letellier works with students of all ages and levels to develop cohesive, healthy, and beautiful voices. Ms. Letellier is passionate about creating an inclusive learning environment for students of all backgrounds, gender identities, and physical abilities. She strives to empower all students to become well-rounded musicians across classical, musical theater, contemporary commercial music, and jazz styles.

Ms. Letellier received her Master's and Bachelor's degrees in Opera Performance from the Boston Conservatory at Berklee. She is currently a member of the voice faculty at University of Southern Maine and the Portland Conservatory of Music, where she is also the Director of the Opera Workshop, as well as the Co-Founding Artistic Director of The Complete Voice, an online summer workshop series for aspiring professionals and motivated amateurs in both classical and musical theater performance. In 2013, Ms. Letellier founded her private vocal studio, MJL Voice Studio, which she has since grown to 50+ students. Her students have consistently placed highly at NATS and have garnered several other awards. Many have gone on to study at Lawrence Conservatory for Music, Taylor University, and The Boston Conservatory at Berklee Musical Theater Intensives.

Ms. Letellier's varied pedagogical interests have led her to develop coursework in vocal pedagogy, diction for singers, voice for instrumentalists, dramatic coaching, technology for singers, basic music theory, and accessibility in voice. She presented her "Listen Up" workshop, focused on teaching students with developmental disabilities, at 317 Main Community Music Center. Committed to her own professional development. Ms. Letellier has taken the Trans Voices Masterclass with Dr. Stephanie Weiss at Opera Programs Berlin, the Vocal Pedagogy Professional Workshop at the Boston Conservatory at Berklee, Alexander Technique for the Audition Brain at The Empowered Musician, and many others.

She serves as Vice President of the Maine chapter of NATS and has been an invited adjudicator at NATS New England (2021) and NATS Maine (2018). She is Founder and Co-Manager of the Maine chapter of Opera on Tap: Maine, the Media Liaison of the Portland Rossini Club, and she remains an active member of the Society of Pi Kappa Lambda, the American Honor Society for Music.
